JOINT MEETING AT BANFF.

Representatives of the Northern Association of Literary and Scientific Societies visited Banff to-day and took part in a series of meetings. This afternoon the annual joint meeting of the Association was held, followed by a supper, attended by a representative company, and the following day the members and their friends went on an excursion to various parts of interest in the district.

Prior to the meeting, the representatives assembled at the Banff Museum in the Library buildings, and after viewing the specimens there, adjourned to the Academy buildings for the reading of papers. Rev. Dr Milne, Aberdeen, late of King-Edward, presided, and the others present were:—Mr James Grant, LL.B., Banff; Mr John Yeats, M.A., Banff; Mr Alex. Fraser, solicitor, Inverness; Mr G. D. Thomson, M.A., Kindrought, Portsoy; and Provost Alexander, Mr James Forbes, solicitor, Mr John Forbes, Mr C. S. Macpherson, rector, Mr Wm. Craib, Miss Spence, Mr Jeffreys, Mr J. Donald, M.A.; Mr Peter Milne, Banff; and Mr Alex. Greig, Sandlaw, Banff; Miss Gowan, and Miss Ross, Cullen.

In opening the meeting, the Chairman, in the name of the Banff Field Club, extended in a word a hearty welcome to the strangers present, and expressed the hope that they might have a pleasant excursion on the following day.

Mr Yeats, secretary of the Banff Field Club, intimated apologies from Colonel Johnston, Lesmurdie, president of the Elgin Field Club and Scientific Society; Mr Norris Mackay, Elgin, secretary; and Mr Thomas Wallace, Inverness, secretary of the Northern Association.

The reading of the papers was then proceeded with.
